WASHINGTON.

SENATOR STANFORD AND HIS GOV ERNMENT LOAN BILL.

A Report in Circulation That the Entire Tariff Question is to be Re-opened.

The Finance Committee Agrees to Re port the Republican Caucus Measure to the Senate.

The Sunday Question and the World's Fair Sympathy for Russian Jews-The Naval Appropriation Bill - Elections Bill Amendments-Notes.

Washington, Dec. 19.—Mr. Stanford addressed the senate in explanation of the advisability of the bill, introduced by him, to provide the government with sufficient means to supply the national want of a sound circulating medium. It was, he said, substantially the same bill as that introduced by him last session. The bill, he said, proposed to put the government in a condition to issue a supply of money equal substantially to the general demand, and to erect a standard of value by which the government might determine up to within 2 per cent what is the amount needed. That had never been attempted before by any other government. The money (legal tender notes) would be issued under the provisions of the bill upon unimpeachable and practically inexhansible security, and its supply would be certain, and determined by the rate which the borrower can afford to pay. Two per cent was the amount to be baid to the government for the loan of its money, and so long as money is worth more than 2 per cent, the security being practically inexhansible, money would always be borrowed from the government, and thus the government would be able to discharge its duty and supply the general want.

RED CLOUD'S LETTER-

RED CLOUD'S LETTER.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Mr. Bisnd, of the Indian defense association, has received a letter from Red Cloud, dated December 10. The chief says he is the friend of the whites, and never has himself taken part in the ghost dance, and has done all in his power to prevent the members of his tribe from becoming hostile to the government. The writer complains of the lack of food among the Indians, and says that is the chief cause of all discontent. He says the drouth for two years has prevented the Indians from raising crops, and they have nearly starved. He says that 271 Indians have actually died from starvation.

THE CLOTURE RULE.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—The committee on rules did not get together today to consider the proposition to change the rules so as to provide for the ordering of the previous question. It is likely that the proposed rule will not be brought before the senate for some time; not until the financial bill has been taken up, and not then unless the Democratic senators evince a disposition to prevent the passage of that measure within a reasonable time. The Democratic speeches on the elections bill will be allowed to continue until the list is exhausted, and then the financial bill will be taken up and pressed to a vote, if necessary by a cloture rule. THE CLOTURE RULE.

THE TARIFF BILL.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—It is understood that, after a consultation between Senator Sherman and Representative McKinley, the former has determined to withdraw his resolution to so construe the tariff act, as not to interfere with the Hawaiian treaty. The probability of the reopening the entire tariff question, is understood to be the reason for this decision.

At the conclusion of Mr. Stewart's speech, Mr. Hoar arose and said he would not reply to it, but he wished to have put upon the records the provisions of the force bill to which reference had been made. He had its provisions read for the purpose of justifying the opposition made to it by himself and other Republicans, and to show that there was no inconsistency in their opposition to that measure and their support of the pending measure. Mr. Dawes introduced (by request) a bill to probibit the opening on Sunday of any enhibition or exposition where appropriations of the United States are expended.

THE CHEROKEE STRIP. PAHLEQUAR, I. T., Dec. 19.—The work of negotiation for the sale of the Cherokee outlet seems to be progressing slowly. The committee on the part of the Cherokee nation are working hard to bring consideration of other than the price offered by the representatives of the United States covernment and it is believed by government, and it is believed by some of the Cherokee leaders that the Cherokees will make a final proposition tonight. The bids which have been received by the chief from different parts of the country have proved to be of no value. This infor-mation comes from the chief himself in response to a joint resolution of the coun-cil asking if the offers for the purchase of the outlet were respon-able ones. The official replied that he had no assurance that they were and that in his opinion they were intended only as an obstruction thrown in the way of the two negotiation committees. It is evident government, and it is believed by some of two negotiation committees. It is evident two negotiation committees. It is evident and conceded by all that the commission on the part of the United States have ex-hausted their instructions. The crimes for which these four Indians were hanged were of the most cowardly and brutal nature.

Dunn was trading horses with him, and when he refused to trade back, the Indian shot him, taking the horse and what money he had. The prospectors were surprised at their camplire by a party of six Koote-nai Indians, and murdered in cold blood. few moments, and La Montague was hanged at 9:55 p. m.

The crime for which La Montague suffered the extreme penalty this morning was an abominable one. On the 18th of July, 1888, he went to the house of his brother-in-law, Napoleon Michael, and having enticed him from the door, shot him twice in the head. He then cut his throat and slashed his body, and dragged him back into the house, and set it on fire to hide the crime. The wounded man, however, dragged wounded man, however, dragged himself from the flames, badly scorched and estaped to a neighbor's house, where e died after a few weeks. The murderer's sister Leda, an unusually handsome French Canadian aged 20, the wife of his victim, was arrested for complicity in the crime; but the brother escaped. Leda was placed in fail, and arraigned on the second of October. Though it was shown at the trial that Leda and her brother had been living in incest, she was acquitted nine days later, the fact that she was enciente evidently having influenced the jury. But Remi had disappeared, and the provincial government offered a reward of $1,000 for his apprehension. Late in October he was captured. The evidence against Remi was strong enough to secure his conviction.
On the 11th of October he was found guilty and sentenced to be hanged on the 19th of December. Accordingly the death penalty was inflicted this morning.

PARIS. Dec. 19.-When the court room in which Michael Eyraud and Gabrielle Bompard are being tried was opened this morning, the usual crowd of eager spectators was present, but they were not allowed to enter the room, as the court had decided that the evidence of Dr. Liegeois, the head of the medical faculty of the college near of the medical raculty of the college of Nancy, should be taken in accordance with that provision of the new criminal code which gives to the witnesses the op-tion of making their statement to the tion of making their statement to the court and jury alone. Dr. Liegeois, who was summoned yesterday by Mile. Bompard's counsel, had asked to give his testimony with no spectators present. Accordingly he was the first witness summoned today, and he gave his evidence while the crowd was kept waiting outside the doors. He explained to the court and jury the views of his school. He stated that anybeat who was hymotized became in the body who was hypnotized became in the hands of the experimenter a pure automa-ton, morally and physically. They could be made to commit crimes. He had made one of his subjects take an unbaded recolver and go through the motions of fring it at a supposed person. Another of the doctor's subjects had unknowingly signed a prom-issory note while under hypnotic influence. Dr. Liegeois expressed surprise that he had not been allowed to see Mile Bompard for the purpose of ascertaining to what de-gree she was susceptible of hypnotic influence.

Dr. Liegeois said it was possible that Mile Bompard had received suggestions of which she retained no recollections when awake. To effect this it would be necessary to piece the subject in an anesthetic condition. The prisoner ought again to be put asleep by mesmerism in order to revive the recollection of facts occurring at the time of the murder. The witness pointed out that according to the indictment Eyraud had not been able to put Mile. Bompard asleep, yet she had put Mile. Bompard asleep, yet she had been proved to be amenable to the hyp-notic influences of M. Geranger, having ized. For his part, if he were the judge, bearing in mind previous miscarriages of justice, he would rather cut off his hand than pronounce sentence upon Mile. Boun-

When the senation which this statement caused had subsided, the procurator asked:
"By what scientific means do you determine whether hypnotic sleep is real or could not have been taken part in by any person under the hypnotic influence. Several doctors agreed with the witness. Mile. Bempard's counsel asked that his client be hypnotized in open court. Eyraud's counsel concurred. The procurator opposed the request, and the judges declined to grant it. Counsel for the relatives of M Gouffe addressed the court. He asked the jury not to believe her denials of complicity, but to punish both her and Eyraud, who had confessed to the crime, alike.

On cross-camination Mr. Kean stated that he had a statement drawn up hastily three days before the assignment, which was as follows: Liabilities, $282.76; assets, $603.000.
